THE CITY IN BRIEF. NEWS AND BUSINESS.

Members Elected.

The following-named were yesterday elected to membership in the Chamber of Commerce: Hotel Westminster, Hotel Colomado, A. P. George, G. W. Harbison.

Belasco Matinee.

The first matinee at the new Belasco theater will be given this afternoon, with "The Wife" as the attraction. A special scale of prices will prevail at the afternoon performances of Thursday and Saturday.

New Magnate.

W. S. Alton of Los Angeles is vice-president of the Burlingame Amusement Company, a new organization controlling a large number of vaudeville theaters in the East.

East Fifth Street Sale.

Frank Rayner has purchased of Bowen & Chamberlin, 501 1/2 ft., on the south side of Fifth street, 136 feet west of San Pedro street, with a small frame building, of nominal value compared with the ground; consideration named, $11,250.

Opening of Catholic Schools.

St. Vincent's College, St. Mary's Academy, and St. Patrick's school will begin their fall term next Monday. The Immaculate Heart Academy, the Sacred Heart Academy, and St. Joseph's school will open Tuesday.

Abbotsford Inn Changes Hands.

Prof. L. N. Inskip has purchased of Mrs. N. M. Ricks the furniture, fixtures, lease, and good will of the Abbotsford Inn, located between Fort and Broadway streets, for $5,000. The price paid is said to be in the neighborhood of $5,000.

W. H. Seymour Dead.

W. H. Seymour, for nine years a member of the E. W. Reynolds company, wholesaler of South Los Angeles street, died early yesterday at the Deaconess Hospital. The funeral of Mr. Seymour will take place at 10 o'clock this morning, at Breese Bros. South Broadway establishment.

Buy Acres.

Bowen & Chamberlin, and Strong & Dickinson have purchased of P. H. Rowley and W. Gill, forty-two acres, unimproved, lying between Fort and Broadway streets, Moneta avenue and Figueroa streets; consideration named, $42,000. Buyers will subdivide.

Anti-tobacco Crusade.

G. L. Robertson, a Bakersfield real estate agent, is in Los Angeles to organize work here under an institution of his own founding which he calls the "World's Anti-Tobacco League." He says that the world is his field, and that he intends to work it to the end that the youth in the field may be deterred from using the alleged sinful weed.

Secretary is Elected.

L. Salmonson having resigned the secretaryship of the Kaspere Cohn Hospital Association, and of the Hebrew Benevolent Association, the executive boards of these two institutions met yesterday morning and elected to those offices Victor Harris, who had served for five consecutive years in this capacity previous to the election of Mr. Salmonson.

New Pastor for Unitarians.

Rev. Wesley Hasked, the new pastor for the Church of the Unity on South Flower street, will preach in this church next Sunday morning. Rev. C. L. K. Jones, who has served the congregation for several years, departed on Tuesday for Florida, where he owns orange groves, and where he intends to spend some time in developing his property.

For Italian Church.

This afternoon at 2 o'clock the ceremony will take place of breaking ground for the new Italian Catholic Church, to be known as St. Peter's. The new building will be located on San Fernando street, near Ord street. Bishop Conaty will break the ground for the new building, and will make an address. This church will be used for the 200 or more Italians in that section of the city, and will be in charge of Rev. T. Placentini.

Matinee Record-breaker.

According to the present schedule, next week will break the local record for matinees at the first-class playhouses of Los Angeles. Counting Monday, Labor Day, and Friday, Admission Day, as well as regular matinees given on different days, there will be afternoon performances at one or more of the leading playhouses every day from Saturday, September 3, until Monday, September 12.

Messenger Feat.

Men and women on Main street last evening were treated to the unusual sight of four district messenger boys perched upon a bicycle, with the top laid carrying a tray full of eatables from some restaurant, balanced delicately upon his head. The bottom youth, pedaling for himself and the three acrobats upon his shoulders, was nonchalantly blowing cigarette smoke in a veil about his face as if the feat was nothing unusual.

Exploded.

The explosion of a gasoline stove which was being filled while burning caused the destruction last night of the residence of Mrs. Mary Miller, No. 260 St. Elmo street, and the partial destruction of Charles Meyers' house next door. The fire had gained such headway before the firemen reached it that it was impossible to save the building in which it originated and the firemen turned their attention to others. The loss on the Miller home will reach $1000 with no insurance. Meyers' house was damaged to the amount of $200; fully insured.

Sudden Death of William H. Seymour.

William H. Seymour, who was connected with the wholesale jewelry firm of E. W. Reynolds, died suddenly yesterday afternoon at the Deaconess Hospital. While at work one day last week he was stricken with paralysis. His death was a great shock to his many friends, some of whom did not know he was ill. Deceased was 65 years of age, and had been identified with the house for the past nine years. He leaves a son and sister living in New York City. Funeral services will be held Friday morning at Breese's undertaking parlors.

Schuetzen Park Orgies.

Several good things for the tough element have been planned for Schuetzen Park in the near future, and the grand labor picnic next Monday has been slated as the overshadowing carnival. But a new feature is to be injected into the festivities at the park, although it will not be found on the program. Constable De la Monte, with a following of about fifteen deputies, will make their entrance at the several events slated to come off. The park people have had no license of any sort to sell liquor, but none the less there has always been plenty of beer to be had for those who had the price. On Sunday, and after every barkeep that shoves a glass of beer over the counter will be arrested, and arrests will be made just as long as the beer showing goes on. For the thirsty souls there will be soda pop and deputies, and they will have to rest content with that.

Last Month's Building.

Last month Building Superintendent Krause issued 630 building permits, for improvements aggregating $1,182,111, as against 602 permits, for improvements aggregating $1,127,919 in August, 1903.

and 428 permits, for improvements aggregating $77,712 in August, 1902. In August, 1901 the number of permits issued was 233; the improvements authorized amounting to $537,607. In 1900 the number of permits was 163, and the improvements authorized, $193,376. In August 1899, and for several years prior thereto, the permits ran about the same as those for 1900. Last month is, therefore, the heaviest month of August in the building line that has been noted here for years. The permits covered 533 new buildings, stables, etc., at $1,014,581, and 127 additions and alterations valued at $107,260. They included two four-story brick buildings, $62,000; five three-story brick buildings, $117,690; five two-story brick buildings, $60,809; five single-story brick buildings, $62,138; ninety-two-story frame buildings, $37,383; twenty-story-and-a-half frame buildings, $46,455; three hundred and twenty-seven single-story frame buildings, $317,159, and flats and other structures in proportion.

OPENS THIS MORNING.

Twice each year, (at the close of each season) this house conducts a SHOE SALE to close out the broken lines and avoid carrying over into the following season shoes that should have been sold. You will readily see the advantage of trading with a house that follows this policy. You not only have an opportunity of buying shoes at greatly reduced prices twice each year, but you are also assured of buying from a clean stock.

Very few shoes in this house two and three seasons old to "work off."

The Fall Season's Black Goods

Black is destined to play a most prominent part in this coming season's fashions, they even say—those in authority—that it will take precedence over any of the colored fabrics.

Black is always neat, genteel and rich. It's serviceable, does not grow out of style or shabby. Is dressy under any and all circumstances.

Our fall stock embraces a hundred new weaves and loom effects that may be fashioned into the late costumes and coats.

New styles Cheviots, Camelhair, Zibelines, Granites, Serges, Creppellas, Crispines, Panamas, Mistral, Broadcloths, Amazons, Cravenettes, Albatross and a dozen novel weaves in Wool or Silk and Wool Crepes.

The wonder is that so many high-class novelties, in such splendid, practical materials can be shown at prices so moderate.

For 50c a Yard

You may choose from assortments of all wool Cheviots, Granites, Serges, Panamas, Mistral, Zibelines and Albatross.

Pays the Rent of a Cecilian Piano Player

AND should you decide to buy the instrument within six months, amount paid for rent will apply on the purchase price. Haven't you often wished that you could sit down at the piano (when you happen to be in just the right mood, you know) and make it sing for you some old sweet melody that you heard years ago, or perhaps a bit from an opera, which recalls many pleasant memories, or possibly a certain lively cakewalk or coon song, or dance, which is inseparably connected with the recollections of by-gone happy days?

The CECILIAN can be attached to any piano and played by any person. It has an immense repertoire of music and the rolls cost less than any others. The price of the CECILIAN is $250, but this amount can be distributed over a number of small monthly payments if you so desire. There are many features which make the CECILIAN the most artistic as well as the most practical player manufactured.

FROLIC SOME WORKMEN CREMATE THEIR GOAT.

THE venerable, moth-eaten Billy Goat (mechanical), who for 10, these many years, has been butting candidates into Chapter 191 of the Ancient Order of United Workmen, was cremated with great ceremony last night.

The place chosen was Mineral Park. They all stalked again into the gloom, with the whole crowd stumbling along in a procession in the rear.

Occasionally the silent march would be interrupted by a blood-curdling yell, as some girl stumbled in a mud hole or stepped on something crawling and leaped into the atmosphere.

At length the procession came upon old Hill, standing straddle-legged on the top of a bonfire piled up high. His eye had a glassy look and his mouth-ends looked pathetic.

Old Bill awaited his doom. The band struck up a dolorful dirge, which started out for a hot time but cooled in transmission; too many different keys with no available key holes for a successful hot time.

A yarl in the crowd screamed, "Oh, kill him quick; don't kill him with that!" Her frivolous remarks were properly disregarded.

The high priest peeked over his whiskers and surveyed old Bill mournfully. "Goat," he said in sepulchral accents, "You have lived before the days when Synder first began running for Mayor. You have been since the days when the Times first began to write him to die in the days when the Examiner came to spoil good white paper."

And after a little end-man parley where the spook camp has just broken up. It was chosen so that old Bill's ghost might slip easily in among the departed souls that meander the unseemly shores.

It was so dark down there in Mineral Park you could poke holes in the darkness. About half-past eight, when the members of all the lodges of Workmen stood around shivering with apprehensive shivers, and the women, with the dishes washed from the banquet, also did some shivering, a lank and white-robed figure burst into the circle beating a tiny bass drum.

He made the complete circle, calling "Hear ye, hear ye," and then he came out in natty ghost raiment someone yelled, "You need a shave, Marks."

Behind him came other ghostly figures and a Katzenjammer brass band. "What means this commotion?" inquired His Whiskers of the gentleman with the tin drum.

"We have captured the goat and will burn him on the sacred funeral pyre." And after a little end-man parley where the spook camp has just broken up.

STRANGERS' FRIEND.

New Project is Launched in This City to Assist Newcomers Who Need Help.

A project has been launched in this city that has adopted the name of the "Strangers' Friend Society," and which purposes to aid the stranger within our gates who may be sick, needy or in distress of mind. A meeting of the new society was held on Tuesday evening at the home of Z. C. Angevine, No. 521 South Figueroa street, and plans for the work were discussed.

The society is to be divided into eight departments, viz., visitation, religious service, information bureau, health, loan bureau, publication, entertainment and church location. One of the plans proposed by the society is the establishment of a health resort in the foothills, where strangers may find accommodations and medical treatment at a nominal rate.

The society talks of a public meeting the latter part of this month, when the plans will be laid before the people. It has the backing of a large number of well-known citizens.

MISTER BOGE, CARD MARKER.

HIS DORSAL FIN PROTRUDES AT OCEAN PARK.

Promoter of the Catalina Island Bar-room Murder Rises Let Visor as the Originator of the Skin-game of Stud Among the Beach Aristocracy.

The dorsal fin of Eugene Boge, one of the most notorious poker sharks in the country, has come skating blithely into the Santa Monica stud poker scandals.

This explains how it happened that the Bon Ton of Ocean Park came to be so shockingly strong on marked cards. "Spill it," cried Mister Boge as a token of sweet memory. He knows Mister Boge.

Rogers has just been retained to save the "face" of Ocean Park's aristocracy and incidentally to help prosecute City Treasurer Steele of Santa Monica.

tent Ocean Park magnates about his knees and freely forgave them; then asked how it all happened. They told him, but he was not satisfied.

In their wildest abandonment of confession there seeped a something withheld. "Wasn't there some one else in the game?" asked Rogers.

No, honest; that was all. Think again. One of them could remember a slim, sad youth with nice manners who had played in the first games.

The others frowned at this frivolous suggestion, but Rogers asked what his name was. "Bogey," said the man gloomily. "Spill it," said the man gloomily.

"B-o-g-e." And then it was sunrise for the law-yr.

He rose and lifted his hat to the remembrance of Boge.

Boge is the gambler who brought on the murder in the card room of the Hotel Metropole. He was the partner of the murdered man, Yeager; the fatal game was played to recoup the firm for money lost by Boge when he was drunk.

Boge is a slim, sad young man with the sweetest manners that can be seen in the streets of the city. He looks like an innocent to be allowed out where men play horrid games like stud poker.

Boge's special graft is to tour the small towns and pleasure resorts of Southern California and get in the games. He always plays with marked cards and always gets somebody to act as his accomplice if he possibly can work it.

No sooner was the news broken to them yesterday than every one rushed to tell the figure that Boge out in the Ocean Park stud poker games. They remembered that Boge introduced them to their first pack of marked cards.

During one of the first games in which he played at the Holborn, Boge suddenly backed off his chair from the table and plausibly announced that he declined to lower himself by playing in a game where there were marked cards.

Pale heroine lights and shaky music for Boge.

Naturally there was a sensation. Boge quickly walked to a corner of the room where there were a number of packs of cards. He took up one and said he would show them. It seemed that a bad man whom he once helped to become a Christian showed him how the trick was done.

Boge took up a pack and rapidly dealt them off face down on the table naming each card correctly without seeing the face.

If the Santa Monica municipal government had not been a collection of innocent lambs, they would have seen at once through Boge's fake.

One can no more read another man's marked cards than he can read another man's shorthand. Every pack of marked cards is different from every other pack.

Boge finally suggested to them in a graceful way that a slippery gentleman named Rand could furnish them with a marked pack if they wanted it. They did.

With this pack, Farmer Thomason was floored.

At the time of the Catalina murder Boge's whole card-marking outfit was captured by a trick. The marked pack used at Ocean Park shows the same general system.

THE SUPPORT OF HUSBANDS.

Should Wives Feed Them and Pay Their Bills?

Practical Debate by Women at Long Beach.

Ladies Express Themselves With Much Freedom.

"Persuade a woman 'gainst her will, she's of the same opinion still."

In the face of this honorable and ancient saw two bright Los Angeles women, Mrs. Bertha Hirsch Baruch and Mrs. Mary A. Garbutt, had a warm debate in the Presbyterian church at Long Beach yesterday afternoon upon a startling question, to wit:

Resolved, that the husband is entitled to demand support by his wife.

The discussion pro and con of this proposition was the feature of a session of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union annual institute.

The affirmative of the question was upheld by Mrs. Bertha Hirsch Baruch of No. 1041 West Thirty-sixth street, member of the League of American Penwomen, International League of Press Clubs, Washington, D. C.; member of the Pennsylvania Women's Press Association, Philadelphia, Pa.; member of the Press Club of Southern California, Los Angeles, Cal.

The negative was presented by Mrs. Mary A. Garbutt of Ocean View and Alvarado streets.

Mrs. Baruch wore a dress of ecru-colored linen, with dots of black and little bows to match. In the dark disarrangements of her hair nodded a scarlet carnation. Beyond the cavil of a doubt her logic was lofty, her deductions profound. She had a pretty trick of shaking an upraised forefinger opposite her dainty ear. It heightened every epigram. As one fair auditor put it, "Dear Mrs. Baruch has such winning pupil manner."

"The great question," Mrs. Baruch impressively began, "be entitled," she paused; "to demand support"—here the carnation nodded—"from the wife."

"Few questions have of late engaged wider public attention, and received more full and free discussion in the pulpit and the press, than the question relating to the institution of marriage."

"Love, the universally acknowledged precursor of marriage, has been scientifically analyzed, marriage has been philosophically investigated, the home pitilessly criticized, and the duties and obligations of the contracting parties have been variously interpreted and diversely defined." Again the gay posey nodded in the dark hair to the shapely finger that measured the punctuation of the point.

"Our concern today, however," pursued the carnation mistress, "is with the practical or economic side of the duties and obligations of husband and wife; hence the question, 'Shall the husband be entitled to demand support from the wife?'"

"You could have heard an invisible hairpin drop."

"Before we attempt to answer this question let us inquire into the meaning of the relationship under discussion."

"Never mind that, dearie," whispered a sweet-faced, gold-spectacled old lady; "we who have raised families understand all about that." But only the bright, pink heard.

"Let us," insisted the earnest debater "see what is, or ought to be, the attitude of one partner in this business of matrimony toward the other. For notwithstanding all the romance that may or may not surround the marriage pair, and despite the love and tenderness that may linger like sweet incense in the family altar, all life, and more particularly married life, is a more or less serious matter of business."

A sigh, perhaps of pity, perhaps of recollection, floated from the parted lips of the lady of the gold-bowed spectacles.

"THE MARRIAGE FIRM."

Continued the speaker: "If then, we regard the practical basis of marriage as a business relation, a partnership on principles of justice or equity, can we say that one member of the firm only shall be the producer, and the other the consumer? Can we say that one alone shall bear the burden of expense while the other reaps the profits?"

"Mercy on us!" breathed a ruddy matron in the pew behind, "ain't that scandalous talk? Why the other, the lady in ecru had resumed:

"Surely no fair-minded or honestly-

STRIKER AGAIN IN THE TOILS.

FEDERAL INJUNCTION VIOLATOR RESISTED AN OFFICER.

Labor-Unionist Tags Arrested on Two Charges in San Bernardino and Bitter Fight Anticipated in Court—Discharged Santa Fe Employees Dig up the Required Bail.

SAN BERNARDINO, Aug. 31.—Confusion was thrown into the ranks of the discharged Santa Fe railroad unionists last night when Sheriff Ralph arrested Reuben Tags, charging him with resisting an officer and evading railroad fare. Tags' arrest grew out of an assault which he made upon Deputy Sheriff Cummings some nights ago. The officer had found the youth concealed on an east-bound overland, which the striker had boarded as it entered the local yard. The officer, leading Tags, went out the company's property when the prisoner suddenly kicked Cummings on the stomach, and before the latter could defend himself he was struck by the prisoner's severe blow on the face. The officer then clubbed the striker into submission, lacerating his scalp.

Previous experience had shown the company that the local townfolk favors the striking strikers, so it was decided not to appear against Tags before Justice Thomas. In consequence to which the charge against him was dismissed. Emboldened by this fact, Tags and the gang of strikers made an effort to have Deputy Sheriff Cummings arrested, but the District Attorney refused to stand for such a step.

In explanation of Tags' presence on the overland, he and his parents declared he was trying to beat his way to Newport Beach. The story, and now claim they are certain Tags was not even on Santa Fe property when arrested. The warrant for his arrest was issued by Justice J. B. Hanna of Colton, who held him in $15 bail on the charge of evading railroad fare and $500 bail on the charge of resisting an officer, bail in both instances being given by Louis Wolf, president of the local machinists' lodge, and John H. Hopkins. The first charge is to be heard before Justice Hanna tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock.

The case is to be bitterly fought by the machinists and the railroad, the former realizing that if Tags is convicted on either charge the railroad will bring the case before the Federal Courts, as Tags will have been found guilty of disobeying the injunction issued some time ago by Judge Wellington, restraining the strikers or their sympathizers from trespassing upon Santa Fe property.

Tags had been an employee of the Santa Fe at Needles, where he worked as a machinist helper. When the strike came on, Tags went out with the unionists and went to Colton to reside at the home of his parents.

LAST MEAL IN STOCKADE. Tonight the Santa Fe employees in the iron-working departments received their last meal in the stockade, the company having abandoned the commissary department. There are now 600 employees taking the strike, the former employees, and all have obtained homes about town.

LOCALITIES. C. F. Edie has filed an attachment suit upon the Fletcher Mining and Milling company to collect $2500 alleged to be due on a promissory note, a judgment having been rendered for that amount by Judge York of Los Angeles. J. H. Metcalf has brought attachments against the Lady Bell, Los Angeles, Roseand, Buffalo, and Anna mines in Holcomb Valley, to recover $323.

Francisco Baquias has been arrested on suspicion of being implicated in the murder of Juan Castro, July 26, 1904. The evidence against him is slight. Suit has been commenced by the Columbia Savings Bank against the Eliza Weller and the First National Bank of Ontario to recover $2000 alleged to be due on a promissory note. $300 attorney fees, and $2000 alleged to have been expended in keeping up certain highly improved property, mortgaged to secure the payment of the note.

SANTA ANA.

TAILOR DRINK CRAZY.

SANTA ANA, Aug. 31.—A campaign, who has been running a tailoring shop at Fullerton for the past few months, was arrested and taken to the County Jail today suffering from violent dementia. This morning Campaign went to his shop and almost frightened into hysterics a young woman in his employ, chasing and threatening her. She was rescued by a constable. For several days the tailor has been drinking heavily, and is now on the verge of delirium tremens. His examination will be held tomorrow. In December, 1902, Campaign was arrested for drunkenness, and was committed to the county jail, where he was held for several days. He was committed to that time to the Highland Hospital and discharged as cured a few months later. He has since worked in Los Angeles and Anaheim. His former home was Santa Ana.

"BOOZIE" CASE DISMISSED.

The case against Joseph Yung for the illegal sale of intoxicants was dismissed in Justice Smithwick's court this afternoon, on motion of the District Attorney, before a jury had been secured. One of the jurymen, on examination, stated that he would not convict upon evidence offered by the defense, and the District Attorney objected to the man serving. Justice Smithwick overruled the objection and the District Attorney thereupon moved the dismissal of the case, as all the material evidence he had would be offered by detectives employed to secure condemnation testimony, and with jurors who refused to accept such evidence the result could be nothing but an acquittal or hung jury.

FULLERTON.

NOTES AND PERSONALS. FULLERTON, Aug. 31.—A number of Los Angeles, Fullerton and Buena Park friends of Miss Sophia Salvo were entertained by the young lady in the evening. A large party was provided and the guests were treated to one of those ever-enjoyable moonlight rides in the earlier part of the evening, then the jolly crowd of young folks were returned to the Salvo home to enjoy music, games and refreshments.

HUSBANDS.

thinking individual would condone such unjust practice in any field of commerce or industry? Why, then, in the commerce of matrimony should the earning capacity of the husband only be recognized and the entire obligation of support imposed upon him?

"SELF-DECEIT." "Ah, but dearie, it seldom is," whispered the sweet-faced one, her eyes a little sad behind the gold-framed glasses.

"Why, mother, (barring exceptions to the contrary) should childish dependence or incapacity, and irresponsible spending of unearned money, be the commonly-assumed inevitable condition of the wife?"

"Stuffy" snorted the ruddy matron, and took to fanning vigorously with a black and white striped handkerchief. "But, we hear it urged, the wife is also a producer, different in kind but equally great, if not greater, in importance. For does she not minister to the comfort and happiness of the home, while the husband, and discharge, and the manifold duties devolving upon her as wife, mother or both, and as general house maker? And since this is so, does she not render an equivalent in personal service or productive effort for values received in the form of food, clothing, shelter, opportunities for pleasure, culture, etc.?"

"Don't know as I take to the way she looks at it," confessed a third-looking woman in black, "but I'm moral certain I earn my keep. I raised nine children, I'm a drinker, and I'm a drinker."

"On a plan of just valuation of productive power and rightful appreciation of resultant products, we admit that the wife is entitled to due credit for all expenditure of vital energy in behalf of the home," announced the owner of the dainty but somewhat faded gown.

"Still we contend that, having sustained the economic relation of marriage to states, parties, and families, members comprising such a partnership are both equally responsible for their portions of labor and capital, unless otherwise stipulated by contract. That is, unless it be expressly stated in a legal form of agreement that the wife is to be the financial support of the household, and the husband for all necessary expenses."

"Oh, of course. But it's been my observation that the husband isn't always equally liable with the wife," murmured a splinter with sour eyes. The carnation seemed to wink.

"Furthermore," the lady in ecru was speaking again—"in order to maintain a perfect basis of equality in the marriage partnership each must be co-responsible for the maintenance and support of the other, and for the family or establishment called home."

"On a platform of mutual rights and responsibilities in a conjugal state, neither the husband nor the wife can be without the other, and without the support of one from the other, unless that support has been forfeited by criminal conduct."

"If, on the one hand, the wife through illness or misfortune has been deprived of the means or power to provide the necessary services, comfort, etc., the whole responsibility of support and maintenance of the home rests upon the husband. On the other hand a like deprivation on the part of the husband imposes the obligation of absolute support upon the wife."

Neither one, therefore, is exempt from rendering support, to the best of his or her ability, to the other, to the family, the home, or institution, which he or she has lawfully agreed to maintain.

"Each, finally, is entitled to demand support from the other, and hence we affirm that the husband is entitled to demand support from the wife."

The white forehead wavered, the scarlet carnation gave a friendly little nod, and the ruddy matron, with a skirt without worldly rustle, a crisp noise of gloved palms struck lightly upon the floor, and with a flourish of the affirmative was done.

"A great deal of what you said—or rather, what you implied—was a new-old lady, as she polished the moisture from glasses bowed with gold; but I can't help feeling that the sound of your words—those who've been mothers, I mean."

"The ruddy matron remarked, as with slow thumb she marked a fold in 'Women, the Equal of Men,' that she had never heard of a husband being entitled to demand support from his wife."

"But the splinter merely scowled. "Each, finally, is entitled to demand support from the other, and hence we affirm that the husband is entitled to demand support from the wife."

department of the Superior Court for non-support. He proved, in reply, that his wife was not dependent upon charity or the good offices of friends, but was earning her own living.

YORK dismissed the suit, and in re-instating his decision he said that it was the duty of the wife to support the husband, when able; that the earnings of the husband and the wife belong to the community, and the husband has no good grounds for the bringing of the case at bar.

There are also on record a few cases in which the husband has sued the wife for non-support.

VENTURA.
NOTABLE WEDDING.
(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.)
VENTURA, Aug. 31.—Miss Julia Ellen Newby, one of Ventura's best-known and fairest daughters, was married yesterday at 3 o'clock to Shelby Moore Colton of Phoenix, Ariz.

The event was of more than usual note in Ventura society circles.

The family residence of the Newbys at Ventura and Mrs. Colton's home at Phoenix were both beautifully decorated, the rooms being given to a veritable bower of vines, greenery and flowers. Especially were the bride's rooms, where the wedding ceremony was celebrated, glorious with the floral display which had been made in the necessary service of the occasion.

The bride was a lovely young woman, with a complexion as white as snow, with plumose fern trimmings, while the back parlor was radiant in pink sweet peas and plumose ferns.

The wedding service was the Episcopal, and was performed by Rev. Mr. Queen. The bride and groom were attended by the bridesmaids and bridesmaids.

The bride was a native of Ventura, and the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Newby of this city. She is well and favorably known for her excellent qualities of hand and heart, and has been popular in educational circles in this city and Los Angeles as a favorite teacher.

During the past year she taught school in Phoenix, Ariz., where she met and became acquainted with Shelby Moore Colton, a well-known and popular man in the territory, where he fills the position of clerk of the Supreme Court. He is a nephew of Hon. Shelby Cullum, United States Senator from Illinois.

Hadn't Heard of It.
A quaint-looking, white-haired old gentleman of Philadelphia—Mr. Henry P. Hanson—was at the Galt House last night entertaining a crowd of Psychics with anecdotes of his younger days.

"And that reminds me of a story told up in my country by Joseph Willard, a well-known and popular man in the territory, where he fills the position of clerk of the Supreme Court. He is a nephew of Hon. Shelby Cullum, United States Senator from Illinois."

My Specialty

After 27 Years Experience in Curing Diseases of Men, I Have Such Confidence in My Ability that I Am Willing to Wait for My Pay Until After a Patient is Cured.

If afflicted with any private ailment you can come to me with perfect confidence, for in my 27 years of experience I have never betrayed the confidence of a patient. I never advertise in newspapers nor pamphlets the names of my patients, nor even their initials, but I have in my possession the permission of hundreds of the leading men of Southern California that I have cured, to refer sufferers to them, and they are willing to tell them what I have done for them.

I would advise all sufferers, before they place their cases in the hands of any physician to investigate his standing and the results of his work.

There is not another Specialist who is willing to take your case on the conditions that I offer, namely: Not a dollar need be paid to me until I have cured you, or place the fee in a bank to be given me when a cure is effected.

I have made a specialty in the treatment of

Varicocele
Blood Diseases
Rupture
Kidney Disease
Piles
Stricture
Hydrocele
Private Diseases
Bladder Diseases
Fistula
All Chronic Diseases

I make a specialty of complicated diseases, those which have baffled the general practitioner and other specialists. While I am not a cure-all, yet with my twenty-seven years experience and my training in this as well as the old country I feel confident that there is no other physician in Southern California that can do for you what I can do. Most of the general practitioners send their special cases to the specialist.

I have no desire to persuade a man into taking treatment at my hands, but every man who suffers with a disease should know the physician who treats him. If you have any disorder, the following plain statement may save you months or years of suffering by guiding you in your choice of doctors.

I have treated men's diseases for 27 years—longer than any other physician on the Coast. I have testimonials and diplomas from the best medical institutions in the world. My practice is larger, and includes the most intelligent and well-informed business men in Los Angeles.

MAY BOARD AT THROOP.

Hall Secured for the New Department of Pasadena Polytechnic School.

A commodious boarding establishment is the latest step toward a greater Throop Polytechnic Institute. At a meeting of the Executive Committee of that institution last evening it was decided to open such a department.

This is a new departure and it is expected that it will draw students from all over the country in general and from California in particular. For that purpose Mariposa Hall on Center street, Pasadena, has been secured. The boarding service will be in charge of Miss Pease, principal of the Grammar School. If the hall proves too small additional accommodations will be procured. It is to have the advantages of a home.

It is expected to build a dormitory at no distant date—not in time for next year's opening, perhaps, but probably for use in the following year.

DIES IN SALT WATER TANK.

SWIMMER'S BODY FOUND IN SANTA MONICA.

Bruises Indicate Fall Against Side or Bottom of the Plunge—Coroner's Jury Finds Death Due to Accident and Exonerates Bath-house Management and Employees.

SANTA MONICA, Aug. 31.—Henry C. May of Los Angeles entered the plunge at the North Beach bath-house yesterday evening for a swim, and that was the last seen of his body. His body was found in the bottom of the reservoir late at night when it was drained. The young man was a stranger, and no one observed his actions or missed him. The guard and his assistants were on duty, and the plunge did not notice any strange or unusual actions. No one struggled in the water, and evidently there were none to see him go in. The water was calm, and the plunge was crowded during the entire evening. How he came to his death can only be surmised. The conclusion is that it was an accident, and that he fell against the side or bottom of the plunge. His face is bruised about the left eye and forehead as if he had come in contact with some hard substance.

Coroner Trout held an inquest this afternoon, when the facts were developed that May had relatives at Pomona, Wash. He was born in Germany twenty-five years ago and for the past several months had been making his home with A. Ortiz at No. 728 Gibson street, Los Angeles. He had been employed as engine watchman for the Southern Pacific from November, 1902, until June of this year, when he had also worked at Duggett and Imperial. He came to Santa Monica Monday, expecting to work in the bean harvest-field. Yesterday afternoon he spent in the plunge, and in the evening returned for another bath.

The verdict of the jury was that he was drowned, and that he had come to his death through accidental drowning, and the bath-house employees and management were exonerated from any blame.

Young May was a Macabee and a Knight of the Protective Ark, carrying about $5000 life insurance.

HOLBOROW PAYS FINE.

Another chapter of the Ocean Park-Santa Monica poker scandal was written today when John T. Holborow, a well-known landlord, appeared before City Recorder Gunderman and entered a plea of guilty. This plea was to the complaint of Constable Jackson for a violation of the State law against public gaming.

Holborow was fined $100, which he paid. The other three cases will be tried tomorrow.

SANTA MONICA BRIEFS.

Alfred Porter started today for Iowa and from there he will soon go to England for a visit with his parents.

Mr. Hepburn has purchased the Merger property at No. 418 Eighth street, and will make his home here.

Dr. Notthoff has been granted a patent on an invention of his. It is a simple device for the lighting of tank lamps.

Henry W. Keller, succeeds D. G. Hite as member of the Executive Committee of the County Republican Central Committee.

The programme for children's day on the beach Saturday includes a yard race for boys, fifty-yard race for girls, and also for girls, sack, potato, tug-of-war and surf swimming race.

Last night the Dales indoor baseball team won two games in the league series, one from the Sawtelle and the other from the Y.M.C.A.

Mr. J. W. Hutcherson is here from El Monte for a few weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. James A. Gray have removed to Los Angeles.

WHITTIER.

BOY TERRIBLY HURT.

WHITTIER, Aug. 31.—Walter, the bright young son of President Charles E. Tebbetts of Whittier College, was today injured so seriously that physicians consider his recovery doubtful. The lad of 14 years was working on an addition being built at the college, and was hit on the back of the head by the end of a scolding which fell from the hands of workmen nearly forty feet above. The blow, which crushed the boy to the earth, fractured his skull, from which several pieces were removed. While not necessarily fatal, the consulting doctors agree that the boy has but a fighting chance for his life. President and Mrs. Tebbetts are now hurrying home from Stanford,

SAN PEDRO.

LARGEST TROLLEY TREESTLE.

SAN PEDRO, Aug. 31.—The driving of piling on the long trestle over the bay from Wilmington to San Pedro, which will carry the tracks of the Pacific Electric into this city, is about completed. It is stated that this will be the longest bridge in California, being nearly 9000 feet. It will take about thirty days to complete the trestle, when the laying of tracks will be begun on the cut-off from Dominguez into San Pedro. Cars should be in operation by January 1. The present time of the interurban road between Los Angeles and San Pedro will be materially reduced when the new road is put in operation.

NEW ENGLAND SOCIETY.

A New England society has been formed here with Dr. W. A. Weiden as president. The following have signed the roll: Messrs. N. W. Tilton, Misses, Clark, T. G. Pierce, C. H. Pierce and C. A. The society will give a picnic at Point Pinos on Admission Day.

WATER COMPANY GRILLED.

Trustee N. W. Tilton at last night's session of the Board of Trustees, put the Seaside Water Company on the run and roasted it to a finish. Mr. Tilton charged that the company has not lived up to the terms of its franchise as regards laying mains and conduits over the city, and advocates a revocation of the franchise. The street Superintendent was instructed to look into the subject and report at the next session of the board.

OCEAN PARK.

WINNERS AT BOWLING.

OCEAN PARK, Aug. 31.—Victory was Ocean Park's last night in the bowling contest between Gilman and Valenzuela, representing the South Side, and Davis and Tompkins for Santa Monica. The high score for the evening was 238, made by Valenzuela.

Grand Master Templar Henry B. Stoddard, accompanied by staff grand commanders from Louisiana, Texas and Mississippi, visited this beach today.

Charles Earl, formerly of Sunset avenue, but later of Santa Monica, started today for Providence, R. I., to join his family. They will return in October and make Los Angeles their home.

Mr. R. L. Merrifield of Los Angeles is a guest of Mrs. F. M. Stone at No. 40 1/2 street.

F. M. Stone of Los Angeles is here for a vacation by the sea.

PLAYA DEL REY.

BOAT CLUB TO INCORPORATE.

PLAYA DEL REY, Aug. 31.—It has been determined to incorporate the Sherman Boat Club. About a hundred applications have been received for membership, and just as soon as the plan can be developed a commodious boathouse is to be erected on the shore of the lagoon here, when barges and boats and launches will be kept at hand.

Corner Trout hold an inquest this afternoon, when the facts were developed that May had relatives at Pomona, Wash.
